

THE EVENING BULLETIN.

VOLUME VIII.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1889.

NUMBER 303.

Dumplings with Royal Baking Powder

No dessert is more delicious, wholesome and appetizing than a well-made dumpling, filled with the fruit of the season. By the use of the Royal Baking Powder the crust is always rendered light, flaky, tender and digestible. Dumplings made with it, baked or boiled, will be dainty and wholesome, and may be eaten steaming hot with perfect impunity.

RECIPE.—One quart of flour; thoroughly mix with it three teaspoons of Royal Baking Powder and a small teaspoon of salt; rub in a piece of butter or lard the size of an egg, and then add one large potato, grated in the flour; after the butter is well mixed, stir milk and knead to the consistency of soft biscuit dough; break off pieces of dough large enough to close over four quarters of an apple (or other fruit as desired) without rolling, and lay in an earthen dish (or steamer) and steam until the fruit is tender. Bake if preferred.

In all receipts calling for cream of tartar and soda, substitute Royal Baking Powder. Less trouble, never fails, makes more appetizing and wholesome food and is more economical. Royal Baking Powder is specially made for use in the preparation of the finest and most delicate cookery.

IN THE QUICK RUSH

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

gregation composed of distinguished church dignitaries from home and abroad.

The arrival of the president was about given up, when at about 4:15, the sun having come out to brighten up the day and the rain having ceased, President Harrison drove up to the door, and alighting, was hailed by a series of cheers, while the marine band played "Hail to the Chief." His entrance in the hallway and to the banquet hall, where he was at once shown, was accompanied by a series of enthusiastic cheering.

A like reception was given Vice President Morton, Secretaries Noble and Rusk and other officials. When the president and Mr. Morton in leaving the building, stepped to the lecture room, where the gathering to witness the inaugural ceremonies had assembled, they were cheered time and again, as they smilingly recognized the compliment; but the exhibition of popularity of the officials reached its height when Secretary Blaine appeared. The applause then became deafening.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Three weeks from to-day the fate of the five men now on trial for the murder of Dr. Cronin will be in the hands of the jury. The evidence for the state is practically closed; the defense will not occupy more than two weeks; about three days will be devoted to sur-rebuttal testimony, and the speeches on both sides will occupy about the same length of time.

As the case now stands the prospects are exceedingly dark for ex-Detective Coughlin, O'Sullivan, the ice man; Martin Burke and little Kunze, the German, although the evidence against the latter is slight as compared with the other three. Lawyer John F. Beggs, the senior guardian of Camp 20, will, according to present indications, be acquitted, no evidence connecting him with the tragedy having been adduced.

Meanwhile the friends of the murdered man, although chagrined because the fountainheads of the conspiracy have not been reached, are secretly working with might and main to accomplish that result. They have only two resources to fall back upon—one a confession from some one of the prisoners now on trial, or, two, the results of investigations now going on in different quarters. The master hand or hands that inspired the manufacture of the bogus interviews with Dr. Cronin in Toronto at the very time that his remains were decomposing in the Lakeview sewer; that provided the funds for the fight against the extradition of Martin Burke, a penniless Irish laborer; that sent to Winnipeg the dispatch warning that individual to beware of the Chicago police officials who were escorting him back to this city, remain to be revealed.

The weekly meetings of anti-Croninites that are being held at the Grand Pacific ostensibly to raise money for the defense, are known to be a blind, and it is equally well known that the sum of $25,000 was placed at the disposal of certain counsel for the defense a week before the men were brought to trial. If any further proof of the existence of a fountain head were necessary it is to be found in the attempt to bribe the special veniremen while the empanelling of the jury was in progress, and the fact that money in amounts of from $1,000 to $5,000 was forthcoming in order to accomplish the desired result. It is to get at the bottom of the conspiracy that the friends of Dr. Cronin are now directing themselves.

At the opening of the Cronin trial Judge McConnell announced his decision on the question of going into a Catholic one. He then referred to the administration of President Harrison as one which had produced good results, and continuing said: "I am glad of every college that is endowed, no matter who endows it. Every institution of learning increases the country's culture, and this, I believe, will build up the government of this great country of ours, under which all are free and equal."

Mr. Blaine was cheered repeatedly during his remarks, and the applause at its close lasted some minutes. The toast "Our Sister Universities," was responded to by Cardinal Taschereau. He spoke of the future of Catholic universities, and said that imagination had no bounds to picture its future, judging by what he had seen.

Bishop Keane responded to the toast "The President of the United States," to which the president replied:

"I am thankful for the reception you have given me. I have avoided speech making heretofore on occasions of this kind. It has been my fortune often to have that covenant broken by being compelled to make a speech. I am sure you will permit me to exact a compliance with that covenant and again to simply thank you for your kindly greeting."

Just as the president concluded, Vice President Morton and his wife entered the hall. They were greeted with cheers and escorted to seats at the cardinal's table. Mrs. Morton taking Bishop Keane's seat and her husband was seated on her left.

Cardinal Gibbons responded to the toast "The Hierarchy of the United States." He thanked the president and the other officials of the government for their presence, and referred to the distinguished gathering being of more than ordinary local significance. "In this university" he said, "your children will be educated to strengthen the country by their number, enlightened by their wisdom, if necessary defend it with their valor."

Archbishop Ryan also made a humorous speech in reference to some toast and after John Boyle O'Reilly had responded to "To The Press," the exercises were closed with grace by the cardinal.

A number of congratulatory cablegrams and telegrams were received during the day from all parts of the world. The students of the American college at Rome sent congratulations. Miss Lena Caldwell cabled from Paris, "Heartiest congratulations and sincerest wishes for success of great work." Miss Mary Gwendolen Caldwell cabled from Paris, "Deeply regret not to be with you. My heart shall always be in the university."

Princess Borghese sent from Rome the following: "A thousand good wishes for the great work dedicated to you."

Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, then preached an eloquent sermon to a con-

A Great Catholic Event

Dedication of the University Building in Washington.

PART OF THE PROGRAM OMITTED.

Rain Greatly Interferes With the Exercises, Although the Indoors Part Was Carried Out According to Previous Arrangements—Many Prominent People Present.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Catholic university was dedicated yesterday with all the pomp and splendor befitting the occasion. Much of the program had, however, to be omitted, because of the weather, and only that part that was designed to occur indoors was carried out.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

W. H. COUGHLIN

Illustration of the New University Building.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The day was damp and raining, just such a day when on May 22, 1888, the corner-stone of the university was laid by Cardinal Gibbons, in the presence of a vast multitude of prelates and laymen. Yesterday the highest prelates of the Catholic church on the western hemisphere, and the most distinguished laymen in its fold gathered at the university to grace the occasion by their presence.

All during the morning the electric cars and Baltimore and Ohio trains brought thousands to the university. At 11 o'clock Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic prelates and delegates from the Catholic convention at Baltimore arrived. The religious ceremonies began at half-past 11 o'clock in the chapel with the chanting of the hymn to the Holy Ghost—Veni Creator Spiritus—by 550 students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college. The chapel was a small room not sufficient to hold one hundredth part of those who sought admission.

On either side of the altar were thrones, the right occupied by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, and the left by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec. After the hymn to the Holy Ghost had been chanted, Cardinal Gibbons, in the full robes of his exalted office, proceeded from the chapel and going to the outer door of the university, with the driving rain pouring down, formally blessed the university.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors

THURSDAY, NOV. 14, 1880.

The public debt of the United States, less cash in the treasury, is only one billion, fifty million, thirty-four thousand, six hundred and three dollars.

Now that General Hewitt has retired from the State Auditor's office, what will become of his libel suits against the Covington Commonwealth and Owensboro Inquirer?

The parties who flung a Rebel flag to the breeze down at Augusta the other night ought to know that the day is past for such nonsense. It was a very foolish piece of business to engage in.

There are enough millionaires already holding down seats in the U. S. Senate, and the Ohio Legislature ought to tell Mr. Calvin S. Brice so right at the start. If the Democratic Legislators of the Buckeye State want to do something to strengthen their party let them elect Neal Senator.

It will not surprise us to see Governor-elect Leon Abbott, of New Jersey, come to the front as a prominent Democratic candidate for President in 1892. His majority at the late election reached over 14,000, a wonderful increase over previous figures in that State. Rah for Abbott! He's a man of the people and for the people.

SHOULD the terrible tragedy enacted at Lexington so recently, and which caused the untimely death of two eminent Kentuckians, cause an awakening on the subject of the offense of habitually carrying concealed deadly weapons, so prevalent in our sister State, Colonel Swope and Colonel Goodloe will not have died in vain.—Clarendon Post.

Undoubtedly Kentucky killings would be fewer if the pernicious habit of carrying concealed weapons was broken up. The law should be rigidly enforced. The pistol and knife should not fill so many pockets in Kentucky, to be used upon the slightest provocation.

Let's Have a Change.

SHENANDOAH, KY., November 13, 1880.
Gentlemen: My paper has been coming very irregularly for past two weeks. So far this week I have not received any copy. Hope you can find where the fault is, as we miss the DAILY BULLETIN greatly when it fails to get in on time. Yours truly,

CHAS. W. AITKIN.

The EVENING BULLETIN is mailed promptly before 6 o'clock every day of publication. After they are deposited in the postoffice they are beyond our control. The many complaints about the mail service in this section certainly deserve investigation, and the Government authorities should take hold of the matter. People are losing all confidence in "Uncle Sam" as a mail-carrier. The service never was in a worse condition. The BULLETIN can not say who are at fault, but the Government ought to find them out and then kick them out and make room for somebody who will do their duty.

It is Courage That Wins.

In the Ohio campaign the Hon. James E. Campbell did not shrink from the maintenance of the principles of the platform upon which he was nominated, which declared in unmistakable terms for tariff reform," defended the Courier-Journal.

He boldly defended the Mills bill, which put wool on the free list, thus defying Columbus Delano and the wool growers' association on their chosen ground. He showed the farmers of Ohio that cheap woolens would save them more money than the tariff on wool could possibly put into their pockets. The result was that Campbell won. For years before, with a halting, temporizing policy, the Democrats were snowed under.

In Iowa, where the Republicans have had undisputed sway for more than thirty years, the Hon. Horace Boies, the Democratic nominee for Governor, took a decided stand for tariff reform, and told his audiences how greatly their prosperity was retarded by the operation of our unequal laws. He had the courage of his convictions, and he pleaded manfully for a policy calculated to give the Iowans a better chance in the struggle for prosperity. The event justified the confidence which he reposed in the good sense of the people. For the first time in a generation, Iowa has elected a Democratic Governor.

Thanksgiving Day.

Governor Buckner has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"Thanksgiving Proclamation: Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department: In accordance with established custom, I hereby set apart the 28th day of November instant, as a day of thanksgiving, to be observed by the citizens of this Commonwealth as each may deem best, as an evidence of their appreciation of the blessings conferred by a benign providence. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort, the 11th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1880, and in the ninety-eighth of the Commonwealth."

B. B. BUCKNER.

"By the Governor:
GEORGE M. ADAMS, Secretary of State.

"WILLIS L. RINGO, Assistant Secretary of State."

THE BEE HIVE.

A few of the many great bargains we are offering for opening week:

All Fancy Prints, best makes, only 5c. a yard, worth 7½c.; Ladies' Ribbed Vests, 35c., worth 50c.; Children's Merino Underwear, 12½c., worth 20c.; Children's all-wool Hose, 10, 12½ and 15c., worth double; 150 pair good, full-size Blankets at $1 a pair, reduced from $1.50; Comforts at 69c., 89c., $1 and up; fifty dozen colored border, knotted fringe towels at 15c. each, actual value 25c.; good red Table Linen, fast colors, 22½c. per yard. Startling drives in Skirts, Corsets, Gloves, Dress Goods, Ribbons, &c., &c.

GIVE THE NEW BEE HIVE A CALL.

ROSENAU BROTHERS,

Proprietors Bee Hive, Second St., Near Market.

The Turf, Field and Farm.

N. J. Power & Co. have sold their fine span of bay geldings to P. F. Kindig, of Pennsylvania, at a handsome figure.

Senator Stanford's filly Sunol went a mile Saturday in 2:10½, lowering the three-year-old record of 2:12 recently made by Axtell.

The average wheat crop of Europe, from 1881 to 1886, is put at 1,211,072,192 bushels, and in 1888 the crop amounted to 1,240,370,925. This year it is estimated to be about 15 per cent. less.

Saturday, Levi Hubble, of Boyle County, sold 15 jacks at from $100 to $1,800, and twenty jennets passed under the hammer at prices ranging from $300 to $1,380.

The sixteen-year-old jack Joe Blackburn was sold to Dr. Ramsey for $1,800, and the four-year-old jack Brignoli to Tuck Hubble, of Lincoln, for $1,810. The highest-priced jennet sold was Daisy, nine years old, to R. L. Salter, of Boyle, for $1,380.

Ex-Congressman Wm. L. Scott, of Erie (Pa.) millionaire, has a 5,000-acre plantation at the southern end of the Chesapeake and Delaware peninsula, in Virginia. There he winters his fine stud of horses, including Chaos, the winner of the $63,000 purse. He has laid out a progressive town on a landing with extensive dock accommodations for freight and passengers. The place already has nearly 1,000 inhabitants. The farm employs several hundred people.—Exchange.

County Court Doings.

The last will of John Barry was filed, proved in part and continued for further proof.

An account of $1750 in favor of the Tron Manufacturing Company for a well-bound deed book index, &c., was allowed and certified to the State Auditor for payment.

Millinery Sale.

Our entire stock of millinery will be sold in the next ten days, regardless of cost. It consists of birds, fancy feathers, wings, ribbons, velvets and everything in millinery line. Call early and secure bargains. 1446t MISSIS NELAND.

Misses Elizabeth Wood, of Maysville, and Gabrielle Swift, of Lexington, are guests of Miss Laura Hickman.—Bourbon News.

PRICES CURRENT.

Review of the Money, Stocks and Cattle Quotations for Nov. 13.

WALL STREET, NEW YORK — Money loaned at 5 to 6 per cent. Currency sixes, 117½ bid; fours, 127½ bid; four-and-a-halfs, 105½ bid.

The stock market opened active and strong, the opening prices being generally ½ to 1 per cent. higher than last evening's figures.

The strength did not last long. A heavy selling of Cotton Oil certificates shortly after the opening weakened the whole market. The certificates declined from 34½ to 32½, while the railroad stocks, under the lead of Atchison, dropped ½ to ¾. At 11 o'clock the market was dull. In the hour to noon there was a renewed selling of Atchison, Reading, St. Paul and the Trusts.

Prices went gradually lower, and at this writing are down to about the lowest of the day. The decline ranges from ½ to 1½ per cent.

Atchison, 34½ Mich. Cent, 97

C. B. & Q., 106 N. Y. Cent, 100½

C. C. & I., 74½ Northwestern, 112½

Del. & Hudson, 145 Ohio & Miss., 23½

D. L. & W., 140 Pacific Mail, 33½

Erie, 28½ Rock Island, 97½

Lake Shore, 107 St. Paul, 69½

L. & N., 84½ Western Union, 83½

CINCINNATI.

WHEAT—73@78c.

CORN—29@37c.

WOOL—Unwashed, fine merino, 18@19c;

blood combing, 23@24c; medium delaine

and clothing, 24@25c; braided, 18@20c; medium

combing, 24@25c; fleece washed, fine merino

X and XX, 28@30c; medium clothing, 30@

31c; delaine fleece, 30@31c.

HAY—New samples offered at $7.00@10.50;

old common to choice timothy sells at $8.00

@12.00 per ton; prairie brings $7.00@8.00;

straw, $5.00@6.00.

CATTLE—Good to choice butchers, $3.00@

3.50; fair, $1.00@2.75; common, $1.40@1.75;

stockers and feeders, $3.00@3.00.

HOGS—Selected butchers and heavy shipping, $3.75@3.85; fair to good packing, $3.00

@3.75; common and rough packing, $3.00

IF YOU ARE NEEDING

BOOTS · AND · SHOES

CONSULT YOUR OWN INTEREST AND VISIT

H. C. BARKLEY'S

SPOT CASH SHOE STORE

We place on sale to-day five hundred pair of Men's, Boys', Youths', Women's, Misses' and Children's—samples of the very best makes in the United States—which we offer at prices that you have never heard named. Come and see them.

H. C. BARKLEY,

LEADER OF LOW PRICES

Frank Owens Hardware Company,

LEADERS IN

SEASON SPECIALTIES.

A FULL LINE OF GUNS.

Double and Single-Barrel Shot-Guns,

BREECH AND MUZZLE-LOADERS;

RIFLES OF TESTED MAKES.

Fancy and Standard Sporting Powders; Butcher Knives in full assortment for "hog-killing" purposes.

JOIN THE PROCESSION

GOING TO OUR HOUSE TO BUY

HEATING AND COOKING STOVES!

Grates and Tinware;
China and Glassware;
Wooden and Willoware.

REMEMBER THAT WE CARRY THE LARGEST STOCK OF

House Furnishing Goods

In the city. We buy of manufacturers direct, and can offer inducements equal to anybody. No trouble to show goods.

Roofing and other outside work done of best materials and by the best workmen. Give us a call.

W. L. THOMAS & BRO.,

CORNER COURT AND SECOND.

WE OFFER, FOR THIS WEEK,

To Close Out Our First Consignment,

CLOAKS!

REGARDLESS OF COST

A. J. McDougle & Son.

An Elegant

Solitaire · Diamond · Combination · Ring

Lace Pin, Stud and Bracelet

Will be presented to some customer of J. BALLENGER, the Jeweler, on February 11, 1880— one ticket for every dollar's worth of goods bought.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A farm of 300 acres near Washington, on the Clark's Run turnpike. It is better known as the "Ned Perrie tract." For further particulars, apply to WOOD BROTHERS, Washington.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—96 acres of land near Mayville. Privilege of sealing at once. Possession March 1st, '80. Apply to JULIUS CULBERTSON at Parker Culbertson & Co.'s stable, corner Second and Button streets, ff.

LOST.

OST—Last Monday, a red setler bird dog. Return to JAMES M. WELLS, West End, and receive reward.

OST—A Water Spaniel dog. Reward will be paid for return of same by applying at BULLETIN office.

